Important Notes for Crew Members – Crew Member's Declaration

These notes inform you about the risks associated with the sport of sailing and highlight the important rules on board the ship and during the sailing trip. Compliance with these rules is essential for the safe practice of sailing and harmonious living aboard the yacht. Therefore, they must be strictly observed. Please read the following points carefully. Acknowledgment and compliance with the rules are prerequisites for participation in the sailing trip. A copy of this declaration must be signed by each crew member on the first day of the trip before departure.

1. Health Insurance

I declare that I have health insurance that is valid in the respective travel country and for the sport of sailing, i.e., international health insurance. I will check with my health insurance provider before the trip to confirm coverage for sailing. I certify that I can swim freely in the sea for at least twenty minutes and that there are no physical-medical concerns or restrictions that prevent my participation in sailing. If I have an illness or restrictions, I will discuss this with my doctor in advance to ensure I am fit to travel. If I have doubts about my medical fitness to participate, I will notify the company sailwithus before booking.

2. Risks of Sailing

I am aware that participation in this sailing trip as a sport and all related activities, such as shore excursions, are at my own risk. Before the first departure, I will receive instruction on general conduct aboard and on using the safety equipment. I am responsible for myself and must independently take the necessary safety measures for my person, both on board (e.g., wearing a life jacket, personal safety on deck), in the water, and on land (e.g., cliff jumping, riding scooters/bicycles).

3. Shared Crew Cash

I am aware that the services not included in the sailwithus travel description, particularly port and mooring fees, national park fees, costs for food, water, and fuel, will be covered locally through a shared crew cash account and will be equally borne by all crew members. According to old seafaring custom, the skipper is provided for by all crew members and is not involved in the crew cash.

4. Responsibility and Liability Among Crew and Skipper

I am aware that all members of the crew, including the skipper, are collectively responsible for life on board. Sailing is a group sport that requires the attention of each member for their fellow crew members. Each crew member is responsible for their personal 2 safety, wearing a life jacket and lifebelt as needed or when directed by the skipper.

5. Alcohol/Illegal Drugs

There is no general prohibition on alcohol on board. I must observe my subjective limit and not create a danger for myself and/or others. Weather conditions can change rapidly, requiring crew members to be prepared to leave an anchorage at any time, including at night. I am aware that the skipper can prohibit alcohol consumption on board at any time if necessary for the safety of the crew. The consumption of illegal drugs is strictly prohibited. The skipper has the right to remove crew members from the yacht if illegal drugs are found on board or consumed. I hereby confirm that I will not carry or consume illegal drugs during the trip.

6. Duties and Instructions of the Skipper

I have been informed that the skipper is solely responsible for the ship's command, corresponding to the required nautical prudence, and the seafaring care of the crew members. His instructions must be followed unconditionally in sailing, nautical, and navigational matters. He directs the sailing activities of the crew members and imparts nautical knowledge. Accordingly, the skipper can and should assign individual crew members specific nautical tasks. This behavior of the skipper alone cannot be deemed gross negligence, provided these tasks are explained and can be reasonably expected of the crew members. At the beginning of the sailing trip, a crew member is designated as the coskipper, who takes over the skipper's rights and duties in case of the skipper's sudden incapacity (decision-making inability or unintentional absence from the boat). By signing this crew contract, the crew member explicitly confirms that they have read, understood, and agree with the statements under clause 6.

7. Crew's Care for the Yacht

I have been informed that the entire crew is responsible for ensuring that the yacht remains in perfect condition during the sailing trip or is restored to its original condition in the event of damage before the end of the trip and before returning the boat. This ensures the next crew finds the yacht in perfect condition.

8. Charter Security Deposit Insurance

I have been informed that we will have a charter security deposit insurance for the trip. The costs are 50 EUR per person. sailwithus takes out the insurance. The conditions of the insurance provider apply.

9. Photo Usage

During the sailing trip, photos and video recordings may be taken on board and on land. sailwithus may use photo and video material in which crew members are identifiable for marketing purposes (online, e.g. website, social media, and offline, e.g. flyers, brochures) only insofar as the respective crew member has not objected to such use in the separate crew contract. In this crew contract, each crew member is explicitly given the option to object to any use of their image for marketing purposes (e.g. by ticking the corresponding "no photo use" box). If a crew member objects in the crew contract, their image will not be used for marketing purposes and any corresponding material already selected for marketing will be deleted or irreversibly anonymised (e.g. by blurring) within a reasonable period. An objection can also be declared at any later point in time, informally and without giving reasons; in such case, sailwithus will cease further use of the relevant material for the future and remove it from its active marketing channels within a reasonable period.

I have read the important notes and bindingly give the above declarations to sailwithus.
